

Ordering Organization Shirts

There are four companies in Centre County that are licensed to screen print shirts for THON (outside of Centre County, please consult Megan Kendrick). The licensed companies and their contact information are listed below. When you order your organization's shirts from one of these companies you will be given the best price available. Also, because these companies are licensed, THON will receive the trademark royalty fee in the form of a donation. The royalty charge for all licensed companies is 8%, and added directly into the order or listed as a separate line on the invoice. Using licensed companies ensures that the THON name and logo are not misused, and it also brings in revenue for THON.

Be aware that using a company that is not licensed to print THON clothing is illegal. It is also not permissible to use or alter an already trademarked logo or icons (such as Disney characters). If you attempt to submit a shirt that violates this rule, it will not be printed. If your organization is caught using an unlicensed vendor to print a shirt, it will be punishable by organization total deductions or another measure decided by the Overall Committee. Please direct any questions to Megan Kendrick, Overall Public Relations Chairperson, at public.relations@thon.org.

Please remember that our four licensed companies work very hard to provide THON with their services. It is incredibly important that organizations do not assume they can print t-shirts with out at least a two week turn-around. Get orders in early and often throughout the year, and always thank the employees for their hard work and support of THON.

These rules are very important, and the THON Overall Committee and Penn State appreciate your cooperation with these licensing rules.
